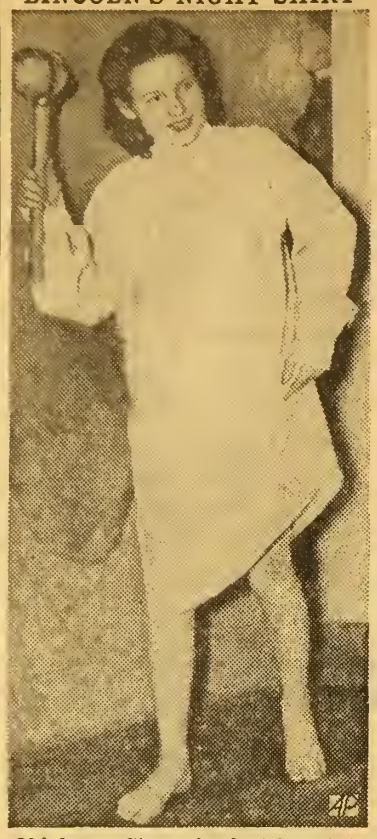
LINCOLN'S NIGHT SHIRT



Oklahoma City school girl models Abraham Lincoln's nightshirt

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 3—(AP)—For Lincoln's birthday, the Capitol Hill High School museum is featuring a nightshirt once worn by young Abe.

Mrs. C. E. Richmond, of Oklahoma, City, lent the museum its exhibit.

The Richmond family acquired the shirt from friends in the Hanks clan. Abe used to make overnight visits with Joe Hanks' family, distant relatives. The shirt was left there by Abe's mother, Nancy Hanks, to be used as a "spare."

Abe quickly outgrew the shirt, which is just large enough to fit Maxine Maxwell, high school girl.
